NATO To Consider Talks With Russia

Agreement Apparently Compromise

Plans For Missile Bases Presumably Gets Green Light

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The NATO summit conference today approved a guarded Western examination of the pitfalls and possibilities of direct talks with the Kremlin to reduce East-West tension.

Sentiment among some members for fresh negotiations with the Soviet Union was a factor.

The move apparently was part of a compromise solution that would allow military men to continue plans to beef up West Europe's strength with ballistic missiles.

Britain, France, West Germany and Norway were among the advocates of serious consideration of the latest flurry of proposals from Soviet Premier Bulganin to all members of the United Nations.

President Eisenhower and the leaders of 14 other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization agreed to proceed with a study along these lines, outside the U.N., but only so long as such talks should show some prospect of success.

Two Forms Of Action

Western action, as discussed in today's session of the NATO chiefs of government, would take two forms:

One would be establishment of a four-nation NATO foreign ministers' committee made up of Britain, France, Canada and the United States to try to restart stalled disarmament discussions with the Russians. The group would represent only NATO, although made up of the same Western members of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee which Russia recently quit.

The second move was to ask the NATO permanent council, at its weekly sessions in Paris, to examine the letters from Bulganin and see whether their content made a new general topics conference desirable. If held, diplomatic informants said, the parity would be on the foreign ministers' level and not that of chiefs of government.

Ike 42 Minutes Late

Eisenhower came to the afternoon session 42 minutes late to give his approval to a proposal on East-West contact raised by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau. Secretary of State Dulles had said earlier the President would not attend the meeting unless there were "substantive decisions" to be made.

The U.S. delegation has been bombarded since it arrived with European demands not to let the Russians dominate world propaganda with the initiative for East-West talks.

British Prime Minister Macmillan, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen demanded that no doors be shut.

Stassen May Seek Pa. Governorship

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Harold Stassen reported tonight he has written Republican county chairman in Pennsylvania informing them he is seriously considering running for governor of the state next year.

Stassen said in answer to an inquiry his "lengthy letter" went out last week to all 67 county chairmen.

He declined to divulge the contents but said he expressed confidence he could defeat any Democratic foe in the November elections if nominated on the Republican ticket.

LeMay Reveals Gas Fund Lack Grounded SAC

Bombers In Air Constantly Now, Senators Told

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay disclosed today that planes of the Strategic Air Command, the nation's main striking force, were grounded for five weeks last summer for lack of money to buy gasoline.

The fact was brought out by Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) at a session of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee. The senators are reviewing the country's defense posture, especially its position in the race with Russia to develop missiles and other space weapons.

After LeMay had testified that SAC planes are constantly in the air now — some of them carrying H-bombs—Symington asked if it wasn't true that SAC once was grounded because there wasn't enough money to buy gasoline.

"Yes sir, for the last five weeks of the fiscal year," the general replied quickly. The fiscal year ended June 30.

The point was not pursued, but it is assumed that SAC could have become airborne in the event of an emergency.

LeMay is vice chief of the Air Force staff and a former SAC commander.

If the whistle blew for another war, he testified, the United States would have to rely almost 100 per cent on its strategic air force in the opening stages.

An operational missiles system is years away, he told the senators, and meanwhile the country must depend on manned aircraft for its defense and striking punch.

Because of this, LeMay said, SAC needs more money immediately to step up production of intercontinental bombers and build additional bases on which they can be dispersed.

The general testified that even since Russia launched its Sputniks the cutbacks in B52 bomber production and funds for additional operating and flying time have not been restored.

Secretary of the Air Force Douglas, an earlier witness, told the subcommittee the Russians may fire a rocket to the moon within a year and that the United States can do the same "if we want to within the foreseeable future."

Hearst Proposes Cold War Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr. today proposed creation of a "scrupulously nonpartisan" cold war planning board to be headed by Vice President Nixon.

In addition, he called for a "peace cabinet," similar to Britain's World War II war cabinet, to "ride herd" on America's defenses.

Hearst made his proposals in a speech at the National Press Club reporting on his interviews at Moscow with Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and other Russian leaders.

The publisher was flanked by the aides with whom he made the trip to Moscow, Editor in Chief Frank Coniff and special writer Bob Considine.

Hearst endorsed the idea of top level talks with the Russians, similar to Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal in a letter last week to President Eisenhower.

Move To Limit Alabama Negro Vote Leads 3-2

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 17 (AP)—A constitutional amendment which could abolish Alabama's Macon County to prevent Negroes from gaining political control received a steadily increasing margin of votes in a constitutional election tonight.

The constitutional amendment would empower the Legislature to divide the county and its heavy Negro population among neighboring counties with white majorities.

The vote from 1,108 of Alabama's 2,700 boxes was 30,140 for the amendment and 21,906 against it.

However, the anti-amendment total included a large vote from Mobile County where the results were virtually complete. Every other section of the state, with the vote count still lighter, was voting about 2-1 for the amendment.

State Sen. Sam Engelhardt Jr., author of the amendment, had warned that Macon County might be forced into Negro political control under the new federal civil rights law.

Negroes outnumber whites in the central Alabama county about 7-1. The county is the home of famed Tuskegee Institute for Negroes.

Engelhardt, who represents Macon and adjoining Bullock counties, is executive secretary of the Alabama Assn. of Citizens Councils.

Eisenhower Names Whittier To Head VA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Sumner G. Whittier, Massachusetts Republican and Navy veteran, was appointed by President Eisenhower today to take over the Veterans Administration.

Whittier, 46 and a native of Everett, served in the Massachusetts House and Senate and as lieutenant governor and was the Republican nominee for governor in 1956, losing to Democrat Foster Furcolo.

Eisenhower gave him a recess appointment, signing the commission in Paris where he is attending the NATO meeting. The position pays $21,000 a year.

Ike Pays Sentimental Visit To Old Military Command

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower paid a happy visit today to his old NATO military command and said it made him feel better than he had in a long time. But he caused a shiver of apprehension by showing up late to the NATO summit meeting.

Eisenhower's visit to Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe came as part of another busy day.

Up at 8 a.m. after ducking a formal NATO dinner last night to get some needed sleep, Eisenhower had a hearty breakfast. He met with Premier Adone Zoli of Italy and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany before motoring off to SHAPE.

Eisenhower decided to miss the opening of the afternoon meeting of chiefs of government, at least until important matters came up. But he showed up 42 minutes after the opening anyway and stayed through another long session.

Meetings Of All Anti-Red Pact Nations Planned

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The United States and Britain tonight were reported arranging early meetings with their allies in the Middle East, Southeast Asia and the Western Hemisphere to modernize and reinforce defenses.

Informed diplomats said the conferences are being planned at the level of foreign ministers and undoubtedly will discuss the creation of some loose link with NATO.

NATO foreign ministers today talked closer liaison and general political, economic and military cooperation among the four alliances.

Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak is expected to be given orders to formulate proposals along these lines.

Some Asian leaders already have urged a worldwide anti-Communist alliance. But Western leaders, including Secretary of State Dulles, have ruled against that.

The Philippines, Brazil and Japan have observers at the NATO summit meeting. Brazil has long wanted to join NATO. Japan belongs to no multinational alliance but has a mutual security pact with the United States.

Defined purpose of the conferences in the coming year is to rationalize the globe-girdling defense efforts of the anti-Communist nations in the light of Russia's new space-age challenges.

These are the arrangements: 1. The five Baghdad Pact powers of Britain, Iran, Iraq, Turkey and Pakistan, will hold a meeting of prime or foreign ministers in Ankara, Turkey, Jan. 27. The United States, an associate member, will be represented.

2. The eight-power Southeast Asia Treaty Organization is arranging to meet next March at the foreign ministers' level in Manila on a date still to be set. Members are Australia, France, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand, the United Kingdom and the United States.

3. The Organization of American States is planning a conference but the time and place have still to be settled. OAS is made up of nations from Latin America and North America.

Four Girls Die In Auto Crash

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 17 (AP)—An automobile carrying six teen-age girls and a school instructor crashed out of control into a truck today, killing four of the girls.

Lt. R. C. Webb of the Florida highway patrol identified them as Harriett Claire True, 17, Fort Lauderdale; Lynda Hardy, 14, Eau Gallie; Donna Lou Rees, 16, Avondale Estates, Ga.; and Carolyn Blanchard, Cocoa, Fla.

Shirley Prather, 16, daughter of William Prather, Toledo, Ohio, was in critical condition. Joan Philpott, 16, Avon Park, and Edwin Olson, 51, were less seriously hurt.

The girls were from Forest Lake Academy at Maitland. Olson was an instructor at the academy, operated by the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

They were on a missionary fund raising trip. State highway patrolman C. C. Johns said apparently the driver lost control of the automobile, hit a culvert, and veered into the side of a truck-trailer.

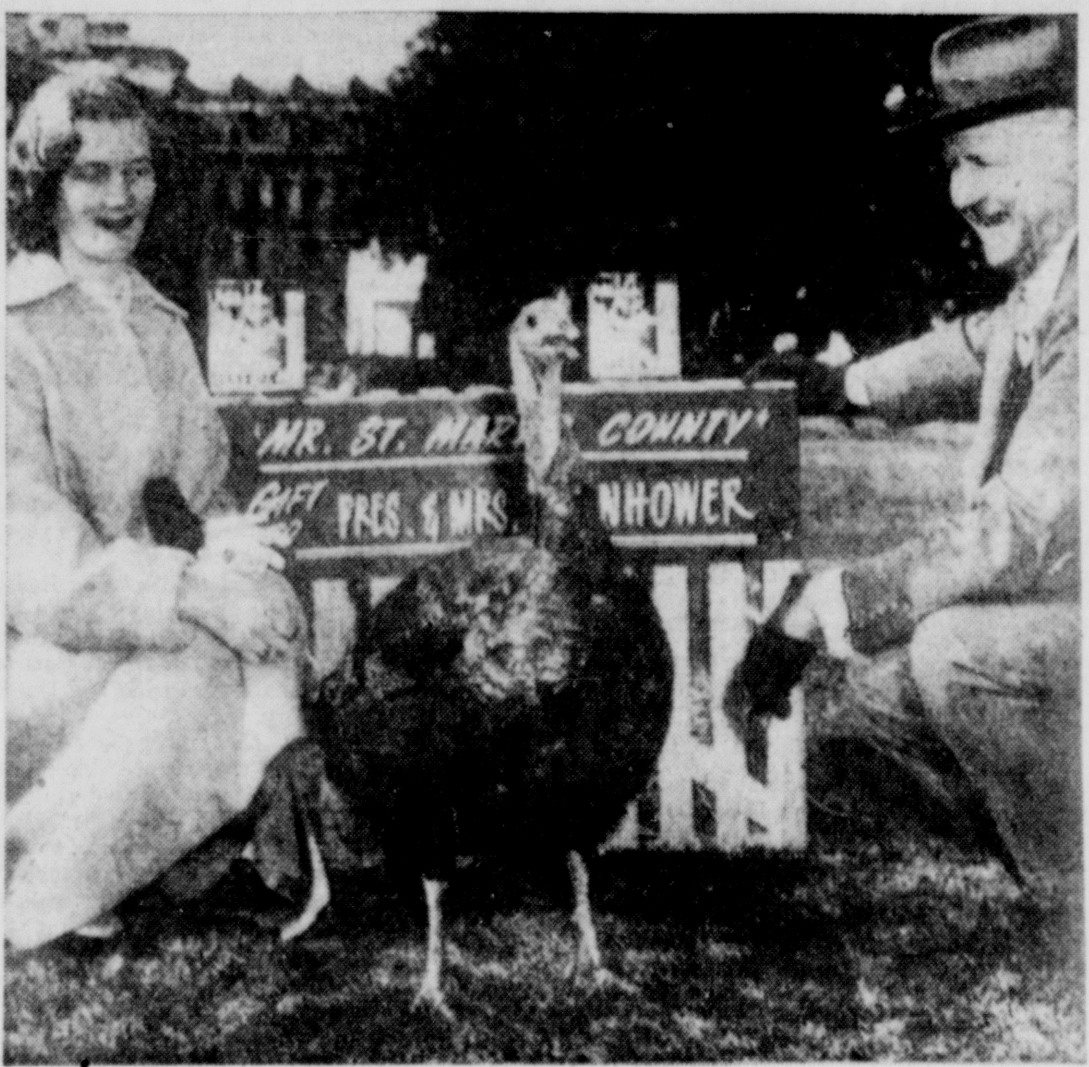

Clarence Rogers, 26, Tampa, driver of the truck, told Johns he had come to a stop before the collision. Rogers was unhurt.

The accident occurred at Governor's Corners on Highway 41, about 25 miles north of Tampa. Webb said Miss True was driving the automobile.

Missilemen Graduate

HAWTHORNE, Calif., Dec. 17 (AP)—The nation's first class of "missile airmen"—trained to fire intercontinental guided missiles—was graduated today.

Most of the 105 class members are officers and men who will be assigned to the Strategic Air Command's first operational long-range missile squadron.

Turkey Fit For A President

A 42-pound turkey's call draws smiles from Homer Gruenther and Patricia Nalley as the bronze bird destined for President and Mrs. Eisenhower's Christmas dinner appears to be posing for its picture on the White House lawn yesterday. Miss Nalley, of Leonardtown, Md., was one of a delegation of St. Marys County, Md., residents who presented the bird to Gruenther, special assistant to the President.

Teamster Charges Quashed Following Payoff, Probe Told

Union Official Refuses To Say If Any Of Money Went To Chattanooga Judge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Rackets Investigating Committee Senate investigators today produced testimony that $18,500 was passed to quash an indictment against 13 Tennessee teamsters. A witness said there was "quite a bit of talk" the money was given to a Chattanooga judge.

After hearing this, the Senate

Negro Student Suspended For Dumping Food

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 17 (AP)—A Negro girl attending integrated Central High School was suspended from classes today because "she lost her temper and dumped food" on two white boys, School Supt. Virgil T. Blossom said.

Blossom would not give the name of the students involved in the cafeteria incident but other sources identified the suspended girl as Minnie Jean Brown.

Blossom gave this account: "There was a white boy who scooped his chair back and partially blocked the aisle of the colored girl student. Another 'chair' was inadvertently pushed back into the aisle, partially blocking the aisle to a colored girl student."

"She lost her temper and dumped food on the white boy, and it got on two white boys."

"The colored student has been suspended from school. She will have to come to my office about this offense."

"The suspension is automatically three days as a minimum. It can be made more than that after a final analysis of the details."

Earlier in the afternoon Principal Jess Matthews had confirmed that a Negro girl had spilled chili on two white boys during the noon lunch period, but he indicated that the incident was accidental.

'57 Crop Production Equals Previous High

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today crop production this year matches the previous record high despite the smallest total acreage grown since 1919.

In its final crop report of the year, the department said over-all yields reached an all-time peak despite many local and seasonal setbacks which hampered planting and harvesting.

The report said the crop production volume was 106 per cent of the 1947-49 base, equaling both 1956 and 1958.

The report said there was no particular crop standout, but production of many crops were close to record levels.

Famine, Severe Food Shortages Hit Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Dec. 17 (AP)—Government quarters said today famine and severe food shortages have struck several parts of Indonesia.

There were unconfirmed reports of food riots, in the wake of crop failures aggravated by a breakdown in distribution as a result of the anti-Dutch campaign.

Tons of rice remained in warehouses and on ships with nobody to move it. The anti-Dutch campaign has brought paralysis to interisland shipping and has idled thousands of Indonesian workers.

The government admitted that 30 areas on the main island of heavily populated Java were hit by famine and that food scarcities were reported in the islands of east Indonesia.

Reports reaching Jakarta said parachute troops broke up food riots in the Moluccas island group near Dutch West New Guinea and arrested more than 100 civilians and army personnel.

An army spokesman confirmed there was trouble in the Moluccas but declined to say what the cause was. He said that the situation was now well in hand.

More than 30,000 dock workers were idled in Jakarta where 50,000 tons of rice was stored in warehouses. The Dutch, who owned the warehouses, cut off the workers' salaries after the government seized the Dutch-owned interisland shipping lines and dock firms.

Another 8,000 tons of rice — to replenish losses in last year's crop failure — is due soon from Egypt and Spain. These shipments also may become tied up in the port paralysis.

Lad To Get Unique Yule Gift — 40 Pints Of Blood

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Richard Cahalane, 8, will get the unique Christmas present he wanted—40 pints of blood of a rare type needed for an operation on his deformed foot.

The story of Richard's need went across the nation today on The Associated Press news wires.

By midafternoon Dr. Mario Stefanini, hematologist at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, reported he had received 42 offers of blood donations by persons with the kind of blood Richard needs—Type O RH negative.

He got offers from New York City and from Buffalo, N.Y., among others.

In addition, John Kose, Lincoln Park, Mich., telephoned his donation offer to the AP's Boston bureau.

Missile Hits Preselected Impact Area

100-Ton, 3-Stage Monster Designed To Go 5,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Dec. 17 (AP)—The U.S. Air Force successfully fired today the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), mightiest weapon in the American arsenal.

The 100-ton monster blasted off into a dark thundercloud at 12:38 p.m. as an excited woman screamed "Go, baby, go." Minutes later the Air Force announced the test had succeeded.

The third time was a charm for the great silver-colored missile. Twice before, the Atlas has roared skyward from this top-secret base, wobbled in flight and was blasted apart.

"This was a limited range test of several hundred miles," said the Defense Department in an official announcement. "The missile flew its prescribed course and landed in the preselected impact area."

Basically, the Atlas is designed to carry a hydrogen warhead 5,000 miles or more at an average speed of 10,000 m.p.h. Ike's Hand Strengthened Limited or not, the test gave President Eisenhower wonderful news for the representatives of Allied nations with him at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meetings in Paris.

Throughout the free world, there has been dark uneasiness since Russia fired its two Sputniks into orbit. The historic feat gave real authority to the claim of the Reds that they already possess an ICBM, a weapon capable of delivering H-bombs to targets anywhere in the world.

The beautiful shot did much to dispel the gloom which has hung over this bustling defense center since the Navy's Vanguard moon rocket, chosen for the first attempt to hurl an American satellite into the heavens with the Red Sputniks, blew up on its launching pad Dec. 6.

A countdown on the Atlas was started yesterday but the scheduled test was postponed because of minor bugs in the mechanism of the 70-foot, three-stage missile. Today, a determined Atlas crew went to work and got the job done.

Vanishes In Clouds

During the morning hours, the Atlas could be seen clearly on its launching platform, gleaming in bright sunlight. Then black clouds rolled in off the Atlantic Ocean and the whole firing range was almost hidden in the haze. The Atlas itself became invisible.

At 12:34 p.m., the Atlas began to shine through the gloom like a huge icicle. It had drifted over as the crew pumped bubbling liquid oxygen into its tanks.

Four minutes later, there was a massive belch of white smoke, then a blast of flame and the Atlas began to rise slowly, coming into view as it cleared the ground haze. Its fiery exhaust burned a hole in the thick cloud bank overhead.

With its engines generating millions of horsepower in seconds, its speed increased and within one minute it was out of sight, leaving a trail of white smoke. The thunder of its engines could be heard for four minutes after it disappeared.

Third Nuclear Sub To Be Commissioned

GROTON, Conn., Dec. 17 (AP)—The Navy's third nuclear submarine, the Skate, will be commissioned Dec. 23, its builders announced today.

The Skate will be the second atomic submarine commissioned this year at the shipyards of the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp. The Seawolf was commissioned on March 30.

The Skate originally was scheduled to be completed in mid-1958, but accelerated construction brought about its completion six months ahead of schedule, a corporation spokesman said.

Woman, 77, Felled By Thief Succumbs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—An elderly woman injured in a purse-snatching attempt in Purcellville, Va., Saturday night, died today in Georgetown University Hospital here.

Police in the Loudoun County, Va., town, reported that the unidentified man who knocked Mrs. Mary Rebecca Richardson, 77, to the sidewalk was still at large tonight.

Mrs. Richardson suffered a brain concussion. After treatment at Loudoun County Hospital, she was transferred to Georgetown University Hospital where she died without regaining consciousness.

Rebellious Bakers Locals Placed Under Trusteeship

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Bakery Workers Union today put under trusteeship a half dozen locals whose officials have been active in establishing a new reform union of bakery workers.

The locals placed under trusteeship and taken out of the hands of their own officials are numbers 4 and 492, Philadelphia; 30 and 51, New York; 84, Newark, and 118, Washington. They have a membership of about 15,000.

The action was taken by the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union recently expelled from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges. These charges mainly revolved around the union's president, James G. Cross, who has refused to resign.

The locals placed under trusteeship have been supporting the new American Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union, chartered by the AFL-CIO president, has accused Cross of reprisals and strong arm methods in trying to block formation of the new union.

Daniel Conway, acting president of the new union, said so far as he knew there had been no attempt to take over the six locals under trustees.

"Not any one of these locals has

Billy Mitchell Statue Unveiled In Smithsonian

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—A statue of one of the Army's most controversial figures, the late Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell, was unveiled in an historic Washington setting today.

Retired Gen. Carl Spaatz, who said lessons he learned from Mitchell in World War I were carried out by himself in World War II, remarked of the man who was suspended from rank and command 32 years ago:

"He was a man of action. He risked a court-martial to rouse a sleeping nation to air power."

It was a simple ceremony in the aeronautics hall of the Smithsonian Institution on the 54th anniversary of the first powered flight by man. It was on Dec. 17, 1903 that Wilbur and Orville Wright lifted their plane at Kitty Hawk, N.C.

William Mitchell Jr., son of the man who argued loud — and publicly — that the United States was steeped in old methods instead of going all-out for air power, unveiled the larger-than-life statue.

To one side of the figure was suspended Mitchell's warplane, a French Spad, which he piloted during World War I.

Sergeant To Head White House Police

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, said today he picked a 46-year-old sergeant, Ralph C. Stover, to head the 153-man White House uniformed police force.

Stover got the job and the new rank of major as the outstanding man among 10 or 12 considered.

The promotion of Stover will jump him over the heads of an inspector, a captain and five lieutenants on Jan. 1 when he succeeds Maj. Hobart W. Francis, who is retiring.

Dulles Cautions Against Relying On Red Pledges

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles advised today against relying on new Soviet promises at a time when Russia is "gravely in default" on past agreements with the West.

The only kind of cold war armistice which is possible in view of Moscow's record, he said, is one that free world nations can enforce with their own military power.

Dulles said the East-West struggle has entered "a new prolonged and more intensive phase" and that Soviet leaders "want most of all to achieve a success by diplomatic means."

Dulles set forth his views in an article, "Our Cause Will Prevail," written for Life magazine.

Associates said he wrote it before Russian Premier Bulganin sent last week's letter to President Eisenhower calling for new East-West talks.

The article served to underscore differences between the Eisenhower administration and several European leaders on the subject of negotiating with Russia. Eisenhower and Dulles, while not ruling out the idea of negotiating, think nothing real can be expected from such talks as things now stand.

Several European leaders have emphasized, however, at the current NATO meeting in Paris, that any possibilities of reaching East-West settlements must be explored fully.

Today the leaders of the Western alliance at Paris directed the NATO permanent council to work out a common policy toward Russian proposals for East-West talks. This evidently was part of a compromise, which would also permit military leaders to continue plans to build up Western Europe's strength with missiles.

Dutch Minister Given Assurances By U.S.

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Dutch Foreign Minister Joseph Luns met with Secretary of State Dulles today and said afterward he had received better than moral assurances on the Indonesian-Dutch dispute.

He said the U.S. attitude, which was previously reserved, had evolved in a manner favorable toward Dutch interests.

Luns had previously talked with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

The Netherlands is asking the NATO summit meeting to adopt a common attitude toward the Dutch in the dispute in which Indonesia seeks to obtain West New Guinea and is confiscating Dutch businesses and ousting Dutch nationals. West New Guinea was not included in the Indonesian independence granted by the Dutch.

'Frisco Has Best Paid Policemen But More Crime

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17 (AP)—San Francisco has the highest paid policemen in the nation, but more crime and fewer crimes solved than other big American cities, a law enforcement expert concluded yesterday after an eight-month study.

Bruce Smith Jr. of New York submitted a 143-page report on the city's police department, pointing out weaknesses in every unit and calling for reorganization from top to bottom.

Smith said lack of supervision from the grade of sergeant on up the chain of command and restrictive promotion procedures handicap the force.

He recommended tighter supervision, promotions based on merit rather than seniority, reorganization of the top command and addition of about 100 radio patrol cars.

Extension Of Trade Act Recommended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Three citizen advisers gave strong support today to an administration proposal to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act five years beyond next June 30.

The report to the White House was made by the three public advisory members to the American delegation at the recent Geneva Agreement on Tariffs and Trade organization.

They also recommended approval of U.S. membership in the Organization of Trade Cooperation, which President Eisenhower has proposed twice. So far, Congress has taken no action.

OTC would be the permanent administrative organization of the 37-nation Gatt group which seeks reduction of international trade barriers.

The report was presented by Andrew J. Biemiller, director of the AFL-CIO legislative department; H. J. Heinz II, president of the H. J. Heinz Co.; and Arthur B. Evans, member of the National Agricultural Advisory Council.

"Fiancee," Not Wife, Will Get Life Insurance

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The state's highest court ruled today that a married man may legally change the beneficiary of his life insurance policy from his wife to a woman he lists as his fiancée.

Mrs. Elise M. Chapman of Silver Spring had asked the Court of Appeals to reverse the Montgomery County Circuit Court and order the Prudential Insurance Co. of America to pay her the $6,000 value of her late husband's life insurance policy.

But the appellate court agreed with the circuit court that it was legal for the husband, Otis Chapman, a former Washington policeman, to change the beneficiary of his policy from his wife to Miss Marion K. Mellott, a Washington nurse.

Chapman was accidentally killed last November when a tractor overturned on him. About a year before his death he had changed the beneficiary of his policy without his wife's knowledge. He described Miss Mellott on his application as his "fiancee."

The high court said a clause in Chapman's policy gave him the power to change the beneficiary without knowledge or consent of the previous beneficiary.

Imaginary Press Meeting Irks Hagerty

PARIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—A tongue-in-cheek column telling of an imaginary press conference conducted by a spokesman named Jim today aroused presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty.

The White House press spokesman, here with President Eisenhower for the NATO summit conference, brought the matter up at a news conference and called the column "unadulterated rot."

The column was written by Art Buchwald of the New York Herald Tribune and appeared in the Paris and New York editions of that newspaper. In New York it was headlined: Buchwald sits in at NATO . . . a press conference, as it might have been.

In the column, Buchwald noted that the NATO conference is being covered by 1,700 journalists and that every facet of the President's stay is reported to the public in detail. Some of the questions and answers in the column went like this:

Q—Jim, did the President speak to any one before retiring?

A—He spoke to the secretary of state.

Q—What did he say to the secretary of state, Jim?

A—He said, "Good night, Foster."

Q—And what did the secretary say to the President?

A—He said, "Good night, Mr. President."

Q—The secretary didn't say "Pleasant dreams?"

A—Not to my knowledge.

Q—Jim, do you have any idea what the President is dreaming of this very moment?

A—No, the President has never revealed to me any of his dreams.

Q—Are we to assume from that the President doesn't dream? my press conference."

A—I'm not saying he does or he doesn't. I just said I don't know. At his news conference today, even remotely resemble what I ever said at a public briefing," Hagerty said he had read in the Herald Tribune "what has purportedly a question and answer of the President doesn't dream? my press conference."

Psychodrama Lets Juvenile Delinquent Act Out Conflicts

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—So the juvenile delinquent is caught, convicted and sent to a training school where he serves his time and is released.

What then?

There's a good chance—in some cases it runs as high as 50-50—that he will wind up in trouble again. All too often the pattern will be retraced until he is listed as a hardened criminal.

Dr. Michael M. Miller, a psychiatrist who spends a couple of days each week at a boys' training school in Cheltenham, Md., has worried about this. And he thinks he may have an answer to one of the nation's most serious problems.

When a youngster starts getting in trouble, why not let him act out the conflicts? Then all those involved—the parents, the teachers, the psychiatrist—can see where the stresses are and what is behind the trouble.

For the theory is that during the acting these problems become increasingly real, and the youngster is liable to blurt out exactly what ails him.

This acting for keeps—it's called psychodrama—long has been used in hospitals for the mentally ill. But Miller believes this is its first attempt for juvenile delinquents, both actual and potential.

Recently Miller thinks he made judicial history by having a 15-year-old act out his problems before Judge Alfred D. Noyes of the Montgomery County, Md., Juvenile Court.

Miller borrowed the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School dramatic club, and the instructor, Pat Dalla Santa, played the role of the boy's father.

It must have been quite a performance.

During the drama the boy shouted: "Why do you move us all over the country? Every time I make a few friends, I've got to leave them. That's what happened in Chicago."

And a moment later, he said: "You're more interested in being made a sucker of by your neurotic friends than in your own son."

The real father, who was in the audience, said: "Why, I never thought the boy felt that way."

Why didn't he tell me? Why didn't he talk things over?"

The play-acting father, Dalla Santa, said it became real for him, too. He told Miller: "A few minutes more of that, and I would have let him have it."

The judge said: "This is one way to get a kid to express himself while facing the problems that are disturbing him. I'd like to see us do something like that."

Right now, Miller says, the juvenile is fetched into court, resentful of all adults and frightened to boot. The parents are of little help. They feel guilty and therefore are evasive in their answers.

So he's packed off to a training school, and sent back to the same sick environment with little attempt to correct, or even find, what caused the trouble in the first place.

Psychodrama sometimes gets unusual results.

Miller was using it once in a mental institution, and in one scene a mean father was simulating the beating of the mother. A patient in the audience jumped up, waved his fists and cried: "Good! Good! Give it to her!"

Miller here got his first tip that this man was a man who liked to see women beaten up.

"This reaction," he said, "was of great value in arriving at certain of the patient's basic problems."

Ex-Slaves Of Nazis May Get Compensation

WARSAW, Dec. 17 (AP)—Surviving former political prisoners of the dread Nazi horror camp at Auschwitz who did slave labor for the I.G. Farben chemical works may get compensation from the former German cartel.

More than 4½ million prisoners are believed to have perished in the camp in World War II.

The International Auschwitz Committee said today it is claiming compensation for 11,000 surviving ex-prisoners and relatives of 800 known victims of the camp's gas chambers.

Agreement in principle has been reached for the firm to pay 30 million German marks compensation. Its distribution still has to be decided.

Man Sought By Police Wounds Wife, Kills Mother-In-Law, Ends Own Life

CROWNSVILLE, Md., Dec. 17 (AP)—A 46-year-old man already four miles northeast of here on the sought by police seriously wound his wife, killed his mother-in-law and ended his own life today.

Police said Robert Woodward, a Mrs. Ronald Mullenax, 47. His 26-year-old wife, Anne, was in critical condition in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, after undergoing a 2½-hour operation for bullet wounds.

Woodward married Woodward two years ago and they had been separated six months. Just yesterday she obtained a warrant charging him with disorderly conduct and police were seeking him to serve it. He already was under a peace bond after she complained he was annoying her.

Police Chief Wilbur C. Wade said Woodward cut his way through a screened porch at the Mullenax home at Sunrise Beach about 10 miles north of Annapolis at 3:30 this morning.

"Woodward cut the telephone wires," recounted the chief. "He then went to his wife's bedroom and administered a brutal beating to her."

"After beating her, the man opened fire with a pistol. "Aroused by the screams of her daughter, Mrs. Mullenax ran from a back bedroom. Just as she reached the doorway leading from the kitchen into the living room she was shot and instantly killed."

Mullenax, who by then was aroused, grabbed a shotgun and ran to the front of the house. "I was too late to even fire a shot," he said. "I saw Robert run out of the house, jump into a car and drive away."

He called police from a neighbor's home and the alert for Woodward was sent. A national Park police car manned by Pvt. Lee Schleig and Charles R. Lamson spotted him on the Washington Expressway. They chased him at 100 m.p.h. speed before forcing him to stop near Cheverly.

As they approached, Woodward shot himself in the right temple. A .32 caliber pistol was found in his lap and a shotgun was in the rear seat.

Woodward was reported divorced from a Front Royal woman two years ago and to have a son, 17, and a daughter, 13, by the first marriage.

Forger Sentenced

Big School Budget

ROCKVILLE, Md., Dec. 17 (AP)—A $13,800,000 Montgomery County school construction budget for the next year has been proposed by Superintendent C. Taylor Whittier. For the current year, the County Council granted $8,300,000.

State Highway Use Rises 6%

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17 (AP)—Use of Maryland's highways the first 11 months of this year was 6 per cent higher than a year ago, traffic counters of the State Roads Commission reported today.

The biggest percentage jump was on Maryland 5, east of Waldorf where it went up 35. U. S. 50 near the Patuxent River also came in for heavier travel, registering 35 per cent more than in 1956.

The Roads Commission counted traffic at 30 highway points and in only two was it below last year. Maryland 45 at Cockeysville was down 13 per cent and the county road through Middleton in Frederick County showed 3 per cent less use.

Of the four toll bridges, the Chesapeake Bay led with a 15.9 increase. By contrast, traffic across the Susquehanna was down 3 per cent.

Steamer Link May Be Ended

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Dec. 17 (AP)—The peninsula's next to the last steamboat service appears to have passed into history.

The Old Bay Line, operators of the steamer District of Columbia, said the vessel probably will not return to service in the spring.

The company recently canceled the lease on its government-owned pier in Washington after part of the structure was condemned and roped off. The Washington service might be restored if the government repairs the pier, a Bay Line spokesman said.

The District of Columbia is in Baltimore as a standby boat for service down Chesapeake Bay to Hampton Roads.

If the Washington service is not revived in the spring, the 300-foot river boat will be assigned permanently to the nightly Baltimore-Old Point-Norfolk service.

Wife Who Slew GI Charged With Murder

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 17 (AP)—A murder charge was filed yesterday against Mrs. Frances Page, 27, in the fatal shooting of her husband, Pfc. Herman Ellis Page, 28.

Page was slain with a .22 caliber pistol Sunday night at his home in nearby Cokesburg. He was home on a weekend pass from his Army unit at South Park in Allegheny County.

Police said Mrs. Page admitted the shooting. They quoted her as saying her husband went upstairs and got a gun during an argument. Page, she told police, handed her the weapon and told her to use it or he was going to use it on her.

Hebbe lost control of the car which hit a culvert and overturned. Farrell was dead on arrival at the hospital where the two other soldiers were admitted.

Allain promised to go to Hawaii to marry Moscoso, the indictments charged.

But this one isn't. In giving Smirnoff, you are giving in the royal tradition. For Smirnoff was the only vodka served in the imperial households of three generations of the Czars. ## Woodmen are Santa's Helpers

In hundreds of communities, Woodmen Camps bring Christmas cheer to children, the aged, disabled and less fortunate.

In North Carolina, for example, Woodmen Camps have raised thousands of dollars for their annual Christmas parties at more than 20 orphanages. Some 1,500 boys and girls will receive clothing, toys, candy and fruits.

Other Camps participate in the Society's varied program of helpful Yuletide activities, including those in Chattanooga, Tenn., where hundreds of pairs of shoes are given needy youngsters. Fellow Woodmen everywhere receiving hospital and outpatient care provided free by the Society for victims of pulmonary tuberculosis, and others disabled or unfortunate, are also remembered with Yuletide gifts.

This is part of the Society's year-round program of civic and humanitarian services, the exclusive "plus" of the life insurance it provides its members at cost.

$150,000 Suit Filed As Result Of Man's Death

Suit for $150,000 damages was filed yesterday in Circuit Court in connection with the death of a workman as a result of burns at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant June 19, 1956 in a flash fire in a silo. He was Russell W. Hendricks.

The suit was titled State of Maryland for the use of Hendricks' children, Dorothy, E. Hendricks, Brenda Joyce Hunter, Karen A. Hendricks, Kenneth M. Hendricks, all of Winston Salem, N. C.; Carol E. Hendricks, Beaufort, S. C.; and the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America with offices in Baltimore. They are the plaintiffs in the case.

Defendants are the Consolidated Engineering Company and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

Representing the plaintiffs are Harold E. Naughton, I. Duke Avnet and Simon F. Reilly for Mrs. Dorothy E. Hendricks, wife of the deceased and his step-child and children. William C. Walsh represents the insurance firm.

The declaration states that Hendricks, 42, was employed at the construction of the glass plant by the Sargent Electric Company, a sub-contractor for the Consolidated Engineering Company. On June 19, 1956 Hendricks was in the silo at 7:45 a. m. along with other workmen preparing to go to work.

It was claimed that a heater was used in the silo and that a rubber hose connection to the fuel supply was defective. It was also claimed that the silo had no ventilation. The flash fire resulted in Hendricks' death in the hospital from his burns. Several other men also succumbed as a result of burns suffered in the fire.

The insurance firm carried the Workmen's Compensation on the employees engaged in the construction and a total of $10,000 was paid for Hendricks' death, $300 for funeral expenses and $188.50 for medical expenses.

Man Objects To Reserve Armory Site

Objection was made today before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners by William R. King, who resides on Holland Street Extended, to construction on the county farm property of an Army Reserve armory.

King said he has discussed the proposal with other residents of the Holland Street area and they feel that the section is a residential one and erection of an armory would be undesirable.

King has sent copies of his letter to the Mayor and Council.

Members of the board said they knew that Army Reserve officials had inspected three possible sites some weeks ago but that no decision has been made on building an armory on any of these places.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, told the board he was one of those who went with the Army Reserve men when the inspection was made. Mayor Roy W. Eves and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, also went on the inspection trip.

A site had been selected for the new armory on Vocke Road near the State Roads Commission district headquarters on Braddock Road, but this was abandoned due to possible conflict with highway improvements in that area.

The commissioners also received a letter from the State Department of Health stating that the county will be billed quarterly for its share of matching funds for local health work.

Signed by Clemens W. Gaines, chief, Bureau of Management, the letter stated that the quarterly bills will be paid in advance starting with the one due in March. The county authorized the payment of $26,212 for the two quarterly periods from July 1 to October 1 and from that date to January 1, 1958.

LaVale Baptists Plan Christmas Play

Taking part will be Charles McKee, Mrs. Frank Byer, Eugene McCune, Mrs. Andrew Wallizer, William Pritts, Robert Counihan, Walter Nazelrod, Shareen McCune, Linda Byer, Nancy Humbertson, Rhee Hostetler, Nancy Wallizer, Barbara Hensel, Margaret Glenn, William McGill, Ronald Geiger and David Coleman.

The junior, senior and Cherub choirs will sing under the direction of Frank Byer. Pianists will be Mona Durst and Noreen Corrigan.

6,156 Children In County Got Polio Shots

More than 6,000 Allegany County school children received polio shots last month, records at the Allegany County Health Department disclose.

The total number of shots, 6,156, represents approximately 40 per cent of the nearly 16,000 students enrolled in county schools.

Almost all of the injections represented the final shot in the anti-polio campaign, there being 5,271 students who received their third shots last month.

The wave of colds and flu-type illnesses several weeks ago forced a cancellation of the inoculation project, but this was in effect for but a short time.

Health Department spokesmen said 417 students received the second shot in the program during November, while 468 others were given their first shots.

Bank Debits Continue Gain

Bank debits in Cumberland for the first 10 months of 1957 showed an increase from $281,277,000 to $300,168,000 as compared to the same period a year ago, a report for the Fifth District of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond shows.

Debits were also up for the month of October which had $31,857,000 compared to $30,603,000 in October a year ago.

Building permit valuations continue to lag, however. For the first 10 months, figures show permit valuations of $970,802 compared to $1,339,056 the same period last year. October's figure was $52,436 compared to $117,140 last year.

Plan Would Hike County Payments For Patients

Along with the other counties in Maryland, Allegany County is faced with the proposal of the State Department of Health to raise the county's contributions towards the care of patients in the state's chronic disease hospitals.

At present the counties pay 75 cents per day for each patient from their sections. The county boards collect what they can from the relatives and families of the patients. The state pays the rest.

Health officials report the cost of patient care in the chronic disease hospitals has risen from $1.50 per day in 1940 to $12 per day at present.

Allegany County would have to pay about 55 per cent of the cost of each patient from this county. There are an estimated half dozen Allegany County residents who are patients in state chronic disease hospitals.

Herbert W. Reichelt, president of the County Commissioners Association of Maryland has stated: "I'm absolutely opposed to this change."

"The state has a duty to provide for the needs of the people who become afflicted through no fault of their own," according to Reichelt.

Early Dog License Sale Shows 15,000 In County

The Allegany County dog population is much greater than had been expected.

Several months ago the Allegany County Board of Commissioners ordered 2,500 dog license tags and these are fast being purchased by dog owners.

Yesterday the commissioners ordered an additional 3,000 dog license tags. Even this many tags may not be sufficient as the two recently appointed dog wardens have been canvassing the area and selling tags to dog owners.

James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county board, said that in previous years not more than 200 to 400 dog tags were sold. This was due to the lack of strong dog law and dog wardens. Stevenson said it has been estimated that there may be as many as 15,000 dogs in the county.

The tags which are sold by the dog wardens provides the officials with a 25 cent fee in addition to their annual salary of $3,200. Persons who fail to purchase dog licenses for their animals will be subject to penalties.

Both Merwin Hast, Union Grove, and Burza Hanlin, dog wardens, will maintain dog pounds to handle stray dogs picked up during the course of the men's work.

The booklet containing the rules and regulations of the new dog law is being printed and should be available soon.

Man's Will Probated

The will of Harry M. Davis, who was 85 years of age when he died October 26 at his home, RD 4, Oldtown Road, was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court. His widow, Mrs. Cora M. Davis, was named executrix and beneficiary.

County Informed About Icy Street

A hazardous condition for school children who must use Charlestown Street in the Lonaconing section was cited yesterday in a letter to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Clark.

They said that water draining across the roadway has frozen and the children cannot safely walk to school as a result. J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, said that the water drainage comes from a hillside and then flows around an old foundation once containing a building of the C&P Railway.

Chapman said he had county road workers place salt on the icy section to melt it down a few days ago.

Program Planned By Insurance Men

The Cumberland Association of Life Underwriters will take up "Can We Have Sound Social Security?" at a meeting Friday at noon in Central YMCA.

The association will sponsor the first local showing of aspects of the Old Age and Survivors Insurance Program which was prepared by the National Association of Life Underwriters in Washington, according to L. M. Roberson, president.

The slide-narrative features one of the most comprehensive reviews of the SS program, and contends the financial stability of the program is endangered by continual expansions, Roberson added.

Welfare Board Post Goes To James Orr

Commissioner James Orr, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, was selected yesterday as the board's representative on the Welfare Board. He replaces William H. Lemmert, who resigned his county board post to become assistant supervisor of assessments.

A request received by the board from Mr. and Mrs. Leo Leasure, Mrs. Edgar Mathews, of the Mt. Olive Church, Bear Hill Road, was referred to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor. They asked that a water drainage problem in a ditch along the church be eliminated.

County Helps Scouts Get Water Permit

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners received a letter yesterday from John L. Smith, assistant executive of the Baltimore Area Council of the Boy Scout of America, concerning the use of ground water at Camp Straus in the eastern part of Allegany County.

Smith said that through an error the county commissioners had not been notified of hearing before the Water Resources Board. The county was asked to waive its right for that hearing and notify the Water Resources Board so that another can be scheduled in the near future.

The commissioners said they will waive the right so as to allow the Scout camp obtain water.

French, Spanish and Portuguese are widely spoken in Latin America.

DON'T TELL ME YOUR TROUBLES! IT RAINED ON MY WASH!

Mister, don't you know this is GIVE-YOUR-WIFE-A-GAS-DRYER MONTH

No wonder he got a cold reception! She hauled basket after basket of heavy wet wash outside—hung it up, piece by piece. Then it rained! She had to run out, take it down, go through the whole tiresome job all over again in the basement . . . hanging clotheslines, wrestling with soaking sheets, tablecloths, bedspreads. Inside or outside, it's a hard, back-breaking day's work. So how about it, fella? Get your wife a GAS Dryer and win a warm welcome on washdays. GAS dries clothes so soft and fluffy . . . and does it for only a penny's worth of GAS for each load! GAS Dryers also cost much less to install and maintain than the other kind.

Market, Reflecting Gloom On Wall Street, Declines

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Gloom thickened on Wall Street today and the stock market accelerated its decline.

Once again, several leading steels and motors hit new lows for the year and the average of rail shares erased the gains of its technical rally last week and sank to a new '57 bottom.

The decline was general. Aircrafts, chemicals, oils, radio-televi- sions and nonferrous metals all took sizable losses.

The Dow Jones industrial aver- age fell 7.75 to 425.65.

Volume was the highest since Nov. 27, totaling 2,820,000 shares compared with 2,350,000 yesterday.

Chrysler was the most active stock, off 8 3/4 at 55 1/4 on 59,200 shares. Second was Bethlehem Steel, off 1 1/2 at 34 3/4 on 59,100 shares. Third was Standard Oil (N.J.), off 3/4 at 48 1/2 on 55,700 year, off 3 1/2 shares.

Next came General Motors, off 1/4 at 33 1/2, a 1957 low, and U. S. Steel, off 1 1/4 at 48 1/2.

"Big Steel," Bethlehem and Chrysler were other stocks at new lows. Others were Youngstown Sheet, off 2 1/4 and Republic Steel, off 1 1/4.

Successful firing of the Atlas Missile, a General Dynamics prod- uct, gave the aircraft - missile shares a temporary upsurge but they lost it quickly. General Dy- namics wiped out a gain of about a point and closed with a loss of 1 1/2 in heavy trading. Douglas Air- craft sank 4 1/4.

Losers included Anaconda off 1 1/2, Boeing 1 1/4, International Nickel 2 1/4, Chesapeake & Ohio 1, Gulf Oil 1 1/4, Paramount 1, Radio Corp. 2, Goodyear 1 1/4 and Kenne- cott, which hit a new low for the year, off 3 1/2.

Home Builders Call For Liberalized Credit To Boost Construction

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Home builders said yesterday the government must liberalize housing credit if 1958 is even to match this year's reduced rate of residential construction.

Several members of the National Assn. of Home Builders said waning public confidence in the business outlook and a "let's wait" attitude on the part of prospective home buyers have damaged sales in recent weeks.

Meeting with federal housing officials, they called for government steps to bolster public confidence, drop about 10 per cent from this year's level.

Government officials now expect about 975,000 privately financed new dwellings will be started in 1957, making this the first year since 1949 in which private residential activity has fallen short of the million mark.

About 25 builders offered numerous suggestions for federal action to stimulate housing. They proposed that:

1. The Federal Housing Administration lower the amount of monthly income required of home buyers to qualify them for FHA mortgage insurance.
2. FHA down payments be reduced.
3. The government provide "something to replace GI housing"; in other words, a new program of low down payments and long mortgage amortization for lower-cost housing.
4. Congress repeal the 1957 law requiring FHA to regulate the discounts taken by banks when they purchase FHA mortgages.

New Titan Missile To Have Blunt Nose

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Titan intercontinental ballistic missile will have a blunt-shaped nose cone to resist the shock of re-entering the atmosphere, AVCO Manufacturing Co. announced today.

AVCO reported in a release, cleared through the Air Force, that its Research and Advanced Development Division has settled on the design shape of the missile's nose.

The Titan, still largely in the design stage, is one of two Air Force intercontinental ballistic missiles. The other is the Atlas. Both are intended for ranges of up to 5,000 miles.

The blunt-shaped nose cone was announced earlier as being the design which could best crash back into the earth's atmosphere at better than 18,000 miles per hour without deviating in shape or course.

Odd Bird

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—James H. Jones owns a rooster which has a right to crow. It has 10 toes, five on each foot. A chicken normally has eight.

Santa Is Postman

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Dec. 17 (AP)—For attorney John B. Cunningham Santa Claus came in the uniform of a postman yesterday.

In the morning mail was a plain white envelope with a brief note which read: "I misrepresented my case to you to the extent of $200." It was signed simply, "A Client."

Tucked inside the envelope were four new $50 bills.

Cunningham said he has "no idea" who his conscience-stricken client might be.

50 New Soviet Schools

MOSCOW, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Russian Republic, the largest of the Soviet Union, is opening 50 new schools next year in which 9th and 10th grade students will work half time in classes and half time in factories or collective farms.

The experimental program, the government announced this week end, will enable students to obtain training in selected specialties. But there's a drawback. They'll spend two extra years in the 9th grade and one extra year in the 10th.

Nearly two million Americans live permanently in trailers.

Better Pay For Service Technicians

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, every cloud has a silver lining, etc., etc. So the present lay-offs in airplane plants, decline in employment, and reduction in overtime hours, while they may cause some loss in government revenues, could be persuading more technicians and scientists in uniform against quitting the armed forces for private industry.

Also, the Administration will probably ask and Congress probably vote for the armed forces technicians and scientists pay increase based on their skills. That would be over and above a general across-the-board raise for everybody in uniform. Civilian technicians and scientists working for Uncle Sam are to have their pay hiked at the end of the year.

"The loss of trained personnel . . . particularly in the highly technical skill groups," the Defense Department told Congress on April 10, 1956, in Pentagon gobbledegook, is "the most extravagantly expensive and disruptive obstacle to the strengthening of our armed forces." Only 13 per cent of aircraft maintenance and communications technicians had re-enlisted in 1955, seven or eight per cent of communications and electronic technicians.

Basing pay scales on skills rather than on the length of service (or "Methuselah") system was a key proposal in the Cordiner Plan. This admittedly would boost armed forces pay totals at first, but was supposed to reduce them later and so to be an economy in the long run.

The Pentagon liked the Cordiner Plan approach. However, the Budget Bureau, and then the White House, turned thumbs down on it from fear that it would prove inflationary.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
By What Men Live

The age-old argument continues as to what causes men in various countries to rise in revolution, to battle their rulers, to go to war. Americans are pleased to believe that the struggle in the world today is between the poor nations and the rich nations, between low standard of living peoples and higher standard of living peoples, and that all human problems can be solved by raising purchasing power, so that they eat more, are better housed and better clothed. Then there will be peace on earth, good will to men.

It is an easy solution, a pleasant thought and upon it one can take a brandy. But it runs counter to all history, for the explosive power in all this world of man has not been bread, but ideals, beliefs, ways of life, concepts of eternity, hunger for liberty. It has always been the austere people who have been capable of enormous sacrifices, perhaps because they had nothing to lose but their lives. It was the kumiss-drinking Mongols under Genghis Khan and the sans culottes army of Napoleon, impoverished by the French Revolution but believing in Liberty! Egalite! Fraternite! who set out to conquer mankind, just as today the Soviet world marching under the banners of Marxism-Leninism accepts austerity as a norm of life to achieve the universality of mankind.

It was not a higher standard of living that sent Christians to the catacombs or into the Crusades; it was when Christians secularized their God and paid homage to material existence that they lost empires. We are being told today that all that is necessary to put an end to war and revolution is for the United States to provide more aid, to abolish customs duties, to increase European and Asiatic purchasing power and then the Asiatics and Africans will be happy and will wave the American flag on the Fourth of July.

Into all this also must go the abolition of the Dutch, French and British Empires for which the compensation is to be a little more aid—and a little more dependence for Europeans and more independence for the newly intensified nationalistic countries of Asia and Africa.

While, in pursuit of this policy, based upon the assumption that the Marxist materialistic interpretation of history is correct, we helped to destroy the Dutch Empire in Indonesia, the British power in India, Egypt and Arabia, the French Empire in North Africa, but we have not made a dent upon the Russian Empire. To the contrary, we have strengthened the Russian Empire by our shameful betrayal of Nationalist China, Korea, Indochina, and Hungary.

There is no evidence in history that men are willing to live by bread alone and Soviet Russia is ample proof, over 40 years, two frightful wars and a devastating revolution, that something more than bread, something of the spirit, must be fed the human soul. People may be misled, often to their own disadvantage, but they follow not so much him who gives bread as him who demands sacrifices for a cause, as Winston Churchill proved even in our own generation when he offered nothing but blood and tears and high taxes.

Among the moderns of Russia was a priest, Father Yelchaninov, who was born in 1881 and died in exile in Paris in 1934. He made a tremendous impression on the religious thought of the Orthodox Church. In fact, during the 1905 Revolution, he belonged to the "Christian Brotherhood of Struggle," a revolutionary organization. After the Communist Revolution, he was a leader of the Russian Christian Student Movement in Exile. I quote the following from Father Yelchaninov's writings as an example of the thinking of the Russian people, even in our times:

"We live in a farm between 250 and 300 years old; low ceilings, with heavy beams, a chimney, fortress-like walls. In place of the early hearth, there is an iron stove, but even this—especially on a wet day—gives a real sense of home, of cosiness, of something long-desired. I think a real feeling of home can be had only by people who have lived in such nests as these in their own houses, with the real, living fire of a hearth and a smoky ceiling. What special attraction can be offered by our modern 'home'—a flat, one of a thousand other flats which are all alike, with central heating, electric light, water-pipes instead of a well or a fountain, a lodging devoid of all special characteristics, which can be easily exchanged for another . . ."

AFL-CIO Proposals Pave Road Of Bankruptcy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—More pay for less work! Fewer days in the work week at even higher pay than before! More and more overtime pay for all the other days of the week!

This is what the AFL-CIO Convention has just proposed as a cure for the current recession.

It looks instead like the road of bankruptcy for many small businesses and a big increase in unemployment throughout America if any such program is adopted.

For the doctrine which, in every unemployment crisis, would supply "more purchasing power" sounds plausible, but it is illusory. The theory was applied in the 1930's, and it failed to bring recovery. The reason is that merely increasing the purchasing power of more and more consumers does not help the heavy-goods industries of the country. It doesn't bolster the whole economy.

Unemployment High

This was discovered between 1933 and 1939 when, despite the leaf-raking and "made work" programs of the New Deal "to increase purchasing power," the unemployment figure after seven years was close to 10,000,000. It was only when World War II began and the heavy-goods industries in America were brought back into production that a noticeable decrease in unemployment occurred.

The excuse or argument made by the AFL-CIO leadership is that corporation profits are high. One look, however, at the fourth-quarter reports for 1957 will convince any fair-minded person that American business has gone into a tailspin. Insistence by union leadership at a time like this on moving costs upward can only mean forcing many smaller businesses to the wall.

As for the automobile industry, which has raised its prices recently due to high wage costs, there are already signs of workers' resistance. Hence, if the auto workers' union insists on pushing the wage scales higher, the result can only be widespread unemployment among workers in automobile manufacturing plants and in the factories that produce parts and accessories.

If the increases in wages were accompanied by a corresponding increase in productivity, the story would be different. That has not happened in recent years and has been the chief cause of inflation and high prices. The theory is persistently advanced by American labor leaders today that more pay is due the workers irrespective of the amount of work done.

If the wages of the workers could be really related to profits at all times — and not just when profits are high — then logically wages should go down when profits decline. But that almost never happens. Wage rates move upward always. Even if fixed at a certain level for a while, they never go down until an economic depression of serious proportions prevails throughout the country.

Discouraging News

What the AFL-CIO leaders told the nation after their convention last week is the most discouraging piece of business news since the 1930's. It means that the labor chiefs are ready to force the present recession into a deep depression regardless of consequences.

It might be thought that employers do not have to grant the wage increases demanded. This presupposes that there is such a thing as "collective bargaining" in America. Today "collective bludgeoning" would be a more realistic term. For no big industry can stand a costly strike. The employers are licked the day the big labor unions issue their demands. And the federal government stands by and lets this organized economic monopoly fix prices.

The present administration, like its predecessors, woos the labor vote by promising that it will not favor amendment of the antitrust laws to prevent price-fixing by labor unions through industry-wide "bargaining" contracts. That's why so many conservative Republicans have lost faith in the administration.

The attempt, moreover, to win the labor vote isn't doing the Eisenhower administration any good. For the convention at Atlantic City, after listening to a soft-soap speech by Secretary of Labor Mitchell — who expressed opposition to the enactment of any federal "right to work" laws — turned thumbs down on his mild proposals for reform in the domain of racketeering and voting rights inside unions and for laws to insure honest handling of labor-union funds.

The AFL-CIO claims it is against racketeering, but it is getting ready to block anti-racketeering legislation on the specious plea that "union busting" is involved. AFL-CIO insists usually that it is interested in the welfare of all the workingmen but today it is getting ready to abandon at least 5,000,000 workers to unemployment and suffering. It is demanding un-economic increases in wages and unjustified reductions in the hours worked. Nobody in government today wants to interfere with the legitimate functions of labor unions, but the country is becoming alarmed over the abuse of power by labor leaders.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like the perennial presidential prospectus of the Democrats will bracket the illustrious monnickers of Stevenson and Harriman.

Both these men are prominent citizens and have great experience in getting experience.

Adlai trimmed Averell twice for the exquisite prerogative of stacking up against Ike. At a time when all Ike had to do was throw his hat over the transom.

Averell will be sixty-eight in 1960. It's the unwritten codicil of the Constitution that nobody shall be put out to graze on the White House lawn.

Since Franklin exercised squatter's sovereignty on the executive mansionette there has been a switch in the lease.

This ricochet from the Rooseveltian norm precludes Ike from a third lap on the egg-shaped track.

And also gives the Democrats a better chance than a flea in a pet shop. And brings Estes Kefauver up again like a well-digger at lunchtime.

Also Humphrey, Johnson, Kennedy, Meyner, Symington and Soapy Williams. You can pin the tail on the donkey but you can't make it drink.

Drinking Customs Vary In Other Cultures

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Attitudes toward drinking vary in many societies. Most Americans, according to Selden D. Bacon, professor of sociology at Yale, belong to groups who take wine, beer, or spirits for fun and relaxation. The rules and regulations of Mr. America's drinking differ; he has one set of rules with the family, another with business friends, a third for conventions, and a fourth on holidays.

Our ideas on how much and too much also vary. In some areas, the person who giggles and laughs is high, whereas in other levels of society a man is not considered drunk unless he becomes brutal and abusive. We are more tolerant of imbibing by adult men and wealthy persons and less so about women, children, and members of certain occupations, such as physicians and the clergy.

Dr. Bacon says three-quarters of the males and one-half the females over age 15 use alcoholic beverages 25 to 100 times a year. Of this group, alcohol is a problem in three to seven of every 100 users, with a ratio of five or six males to one female.

This is in contrast to the million and a half of our population who do not believe that drinking has a social function; to them it is disruptive and deteriorating. They have no social sanctions for the use of alcohol and members of this group feel superior to those who indulge. They consider drinking synonymous with drunkenness, atheism, crime, disease, and immorality. This feeling is part of their religion; the Mormons, for example, fall into this category.

Orthodox Jews may drink "to draw the family together, to cement the bonds of a larger group membership, to activate the relationship between man and diety." But to them the rules and procedures follow a pattern and violations are taboo. All members of this society may drink but the custom never has created emotional problems.

Among certain primitive South American societies, intoxication is socially acceptable. The leaders imbibe to the point of—and beyond—intoxication. It is not done to overcome feelings of guilt, hostility, and anxiety, but as part of a group function to have fun and brag about their achievements. Drinking is not socially acceptable when done at the wrong time or alone. Alcoholism is unknown among members of this society.

THE BRANDY CURE

but I think I can guarantee, sir, that it will take you a long time to eat it!"

Suppressed Gaither Report Cites Dangers Caused By Missile Lag

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — An extremely hush-hush dinner was held at the home of William Foster, former deputy undersecretary of defense, now chief sparkplug of Olin-Mathieson. It was held not so much in honor of Vice President Nixon, as reported, but was inspired by Nixon in order to pry loose the suppressed Gaither report.

This report, one of the most important in the history of the nation, concludes that the United States is on the way to becoming a second-class power because of the missile lag.

It also hints in guarded terms that the United States may have to desert its traditional policy of never going to war unless attacked first. The first attack in modern atomic war would be so massive, the report points out, that the country which makes the attack would probably win. And with the arms race going against the United States, the inference is: we can't afford to wait.

This, in blunt language, is preventive war.

Though the White House wants the report suppressed, Vice President Nixon and the business executives who wrote the report want the American people alerted regarding the danger facing the nation.

Educate The Public

Because of the importance of the report, this column has been able to secure the main highlights and they are published below:

1. The report strongly urges educating the public on national defense. The security of the nation, it points out, depends upon the understanding of the people.

2. The USSR probably will have operational ICBM's with megaton warheads by the end of 1959. By this time, Soviet military supremacy over the U. S. should be complete.

3. Russia was stronger than America following our disarmament after V-J Day, but we caught up and jumped ahead of Russia during the Korean War. Recently we have dropped back. Though our strength today is about parallel, the Soviet is swooping head so rapidly that it will be well ahead of us in the next 18 months.

4. The report urgently calls for stepping up the "initial operational capability" of our IRBM's (intermediate-range missile) four times the present goal. Even more vital, it recommends increasing our planned ICBM (intercontinental missile) capability almost 10 times.

5. The report sketches a five-year program that would boost our defense spending almost $20 billion. It recommends a $3 billion increase in 1959, $4 billion in 1960, $5 billion in 1961, $4 billion in 1962, and $3 billion in 1963.

Quick Retaliation

6. The report declares solemnly that the fate of the U. S. and its population today rests on the strategic air command. The report urgently recommends wider dispersal of SAC's striking power and quicker reaction to an alert. SAC can now get one-third of its bombers into the air within 15 minutes after an alert. The report urges increasing this capability by at least one-half. It also calls for improving the warning networks.

7. The report recommends "hardening" of our bomber and missile bases either by building concrete shelters or putting them underground.

NOTE — Assistant Defense Secretary Mansfield Sprague fought inside the committee for an even stronger report. This is significant since he is an administration man. He argued for a stronger recommendation on the question of letting the enemy hit us first, and, though not advocating preventive war, he made the point that if war appears inevitable some time in the future, it would be disastrous for us to wait until the Kremlin strikes the first blow.

Washington Pipeline

John L. Lewis won't hook up with the ousted teamsters. He feels he has enough problems, what with competing fuels and shrinking coal production. Lewis also is planning another safety campaign in Congress to make every coal mine in the country subject to the Federal Mine Inspection Act. Several hundred smaller coal mines, with 15 or fewer employees, are still exempt.

most farmers and Vice President Nixon may be against Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, but Benson's boss, President Eisenhower, is still 100 per cent for him. This was why Benson confidently told the press recently that he had no intention of resigning. White House intimates say Eisenhower — thanks in part to brother Milton — is closer to the farm secretary than any other member of his cabinet, so close that there is an unwritten rule among White House aides not to criticize Benson to the President.

If Nixon ever gets into the White House it will be another story. He has already been maneuvering to get Benson out. The American Medical Association is already lobbying against a bill, due to come up in Congress next year, which would provide hospitalization and surgical benefits to recipients of Social Security. AMA lobbyists are now making the rounds on Capitol Hill, even though most congressmen won't be back till January.

Budget Boss Percy Brundage is looking into the Agriculture Department, General Services Administration and Veterans Administration for most of the money to go to the missile program. $900,000,000 will come out of farm, rice supports and soil bank payments; $300,000,000 by reducing purchases for the strategic stockpile; $300,000,000 by cutting down in V.A. hospitals and tightening the requirements for veterans benefits. Welfare products and the Labor Department will get nicked hard.

Dulles To Resign?

By Henry Cathcart

WASHINGTON — Though they are being stoutly denied in official quarters, reports persist that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will resign from the Cabinet shortly after January 1.

Dulles, according to the reports, will bow out because he feels that a successor might be better able to deal with the Democratic-controlled Congress in 1958, an election year in which foreign policy will be under merciless scrutiny in Capitol Hill. The word being whispered along Diplomatic Row and elsewhere is that Under Secretary Christian A. Herter, an ex-congressman who enjoys warm esteem on Capitol Hill, will be named to the Cabinet post.

Further, the rumors have it, Herter will seek to recruit an outstanding Democrat as a member of the State department team in a move intended to give the implementation of United States foreign policy a bi-partisan look. Dulles is said to view the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "summit" parley in Paris as an opportunity to make a vital farewell contribution to the Eisenhower administration's efforts to forge a shield of free world strength.

SPUTNIK'S WIPE OUT TAX CUTS—Sputniks I and II have wiped out what glimmering hope remained for a general tax cut in 1958.

Even before the Soviets launched their two earth satellites, economists in and out of government were pouring cold water on talk of tax relief from congressmen who hoped to slash federal spending in advance of next November's elections.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

The first Russian earth satellite has circled the earth 1,000 times since it was launched, according to Tass, Soviet news agency. That figure, of course, is in round-n-round numbers.

Sputnik II has traveled a distance equal to 10 trips to the moon, which, if you ask us, would have been far more interesting.

Members of some British fox hunting clubs now use bicycles and motor cars instead of horses in following the hounds chasing the elusive bush-tailed critter. So far, however, no one has thought up a suitable substitute for the fox.

Not a single deer has been shot by members of a southern deer hunters club in the last two years — news item. Wonder how many cows bit the dust!

The Cigar Bowl football game won't be played this year. That, says Zadok Dumkopf, is perfectly all right with him.

More forest fires are started on Sunday than on any other day of the week, according to Factographs. There go those careless picnickers again!

A myopic Chicago dog has been fitted with spectacles to improve his vision. The pooch, no doubt, would have preferred, instead, a set of reinforced store teeth to improve his bite.

Zadok Dumkopf announces that he completed his annual Christmas shopping, yesterday, having gotten a nice gift for each member of the family and a pair of trampled feet for himself.

Among Yule gift suggestions is a pipe trimmed with fur. We've smoked some Christmas cigars that tasted like that sounds.

Sport fans generally agree that college football is a very scientific game. However, we doubt if this is helpful in the current need of the U. S. for more science-minded students.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17 (INS).—Johnny Desmond, who made I cornered Mervyn Le Roy at the Charles Brackett dinner dance to ask him if it is true that Dan O'Herlihy has signed to play the husband in "Home Before Dark," the Eileen Banning novel. Merv looked surprised and then said, "Yes, it's true. But how did you know?"

A gossip little bird told me—and I also hear that Rhonda Fleming has a good chance of playing the half-sister of Jean Simmons, I said.

On this Merv wouldn't comment. He has sent Jimmy McHugh the script of "Home Before Dark" to ask him to write the theme song. Dan O'Herlihy, in case you've forgotten, is from the Dublin Abbey Players and was nominated for an Academy Award a few years ago for "The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe."

Just before Jayne Mansfield took off for Japan with the Bob Hope Company she told me that she had signed a contract for $25,000 a week with Monte Proser and that she'll open at the Tropicana in Las Vegas February 12. The story of her life is the theme, and she'll sing and dance with Mickey Hargitay right with her. "We'll be Mr. and Mrs. then, because we have now set January 15 for our wedding date," she said.

Jayne was a little blue at being away from her daughter, Jane Marie, at Christmas time, but she said they would have another Christmas December 28.

Don't let me hear you say it out loud, that Elvis Presley's popular days are over! According to Harry Saperstein, he will gross millions from Presley Products, to say nothing of his records and motion pictures.

Elvis will make three films in 1958—one for Hal Wallis, another for 20th Century-Fox, and now MGM has nabbed him for another picture developed from an original story which isn't yet titled, "Jailhouse Rock" which came from the MGM factory is also doing well business at the box office.

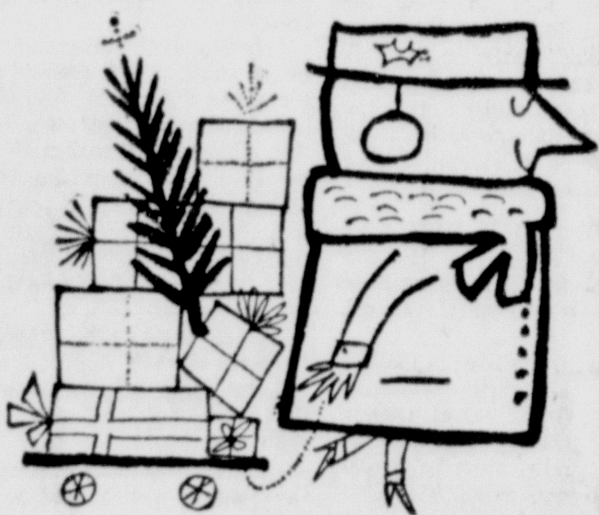

The splendid scenes of the massing of troops on the snowy Alps, the lovely winter and spring in Switzerland, the entire beauty of "A Farewell to Arms" is in the best tradition of David Selznick.

There's a tender love story with Jennifer Jones at her best in a death scene unsurpassed in motion pictures. Rock Hudson, handsome, virile, gets in opportunity given few actors in scenes which run the gamut of comedy to deep drama.

The charm of Vittoria De Sica is one of the highlights of Hemingway's great story. Charles Vidor's direction should satisfy even that hard taskmaster and perfectionist, Mr. David O. Selznick—it's that good.

Mother, Child Killed As Car Leaves Road

A young Morgantown mother and her seven-year-old daughter were killed Sunday night when the car the mother was driving plunged over a 100-foot embankment four miles east of Pine Grove, W. Va.

The victims, Mrs. Raymond V. Eye, 26, and Deborah Eye, were former residents of Franklin, W. Va.

Mrs. Eye was the wife of Raymond Eye, West Virginia conservation officer. Eye and his two children, Douglas, 8, and Denise, 6, remain in Wetzel County Hospital at New Martinsville, W. Va., with injuries.

State Police said the family was returning to Morgantown after attending a pre-Christmas family reunion in Pine Grove.

The father and two children are reported in "good" condition. The accident occurred on a secondary road known as Barker Hill Road.

State Police said Mrs. Eye was driving when the family car left the road.

The Eyes, residents of 124 Parkway Drive, were returning home from a weekend visit with his brother, Raleigh Eye of Pine Grove. Investigating officers said the car was a total loss.

Mrs. Eye, the former Joann Spaulding, was a native of Franklin, and was employed as a receptionist in the office of a Morgantown physician.

She was the daughter of Clyde and Mary (Hodges) Spaulding of Franklin, and also is survived by one brother, Stanley Spaulding.

The bodies will be returned to the Brown Funeral Home in Franklin.

Petersburg To Get New Post Office

Work Will Start After January 1

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—Postmaster John B. Hawse has announced that a contract has been awarded for a new post office building in Petersburg.

The Post Office will be built by Dr. Lysle Trenton Veach of Petersburg, and will be leased by him to the department for 10 years.

The building is to be located at 42 Main Street. It will be a brick construction, with 2,400 square feet of interior space, a 300 square-foot loading platform and a parking and maneuvering area for postal personnel and patron use. It will be furnished with the latest and most modern mail handling equipment.

As it is now planned, the building will be completed in the fall of 1958.

This is another major step in the modernization program of the Post Office Department, designed to maintain the postal service at the high standards of good business practice, and continue to provide the American public with the best mail service possible, the Postmaster said.

Explorers Beat Third WMI Quint

"Chazz" Imes Scores Ten Explorer Goals; Parker Paces Beall

By TED TROXELL

Beall High School's Mountainers last night became the third WMI League team in succession to fall victim to the LaSalle Explorers, losing a hard-fought 67-58 battle to Coach George Geatz's crew at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

The Explorers, whose biggest assets are height and experience, did not mention bench strength, led all of the way after erasing a short-lived Mountaineer lead in the opening quarter.

Beall stayed right on the heels of the local quint until late in the final period. A jump shot by the Mounties' George Allen put the Frostburgers within five points of LaSalle, at 51-46, but the Explorers rattled off nine straight points to pull away to a fairly comfortable 60-46 lead.

"Chazz" Imes led the Explorer attack with 24 points, seven of his 10 field goals coming in the second half. The sharpshooting High School junior varsity sent forward connected on 10 of 14 attempts from the floor, and converted four times in eight tries at the foul line. Beall's Jack Parker took runnerup honors in scoring with 22 markers.

LaSalle fired away at the basket 73 times, with 27 of the shots finding the range, for a percentage of 36.9, while the Mountaineers tallied on 19 of 54 field goal attempts for a 35.2 reading. Lineups:

Fabius Beats Little Hermit At Tropical

Makes Winter Debut, Scores Nose Victory

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 17 (AP)—Calumet Farm's Fabius, winner of the 1956 Preakness Stakes, registered a nose victory while making his winter debut in the featured seventh race today at Tropical Park.

The four-year-old son of Citation and Shamene gave his famous stable its first triumph of the current meeting as he outfinished John S. Kroese's Little Hermit. Mr. Donmar, owned by E. J. and E. D. Fanning, was two and a quarter lengths behind Little Hermit while leading J. J. Gregory's Ben A. Jones by a length and a quarter.

Fabius, the $3.50 choice of the 7,163 bettors, sped six furlongs in 1:09 3/5. His teletiming was only three fifths of a second off the track record set last year by Dark Ruler.

Fabius, who is pointing for the $50,000 Tropical Handicap Jan. 14, followed the pace set by Little Hermit into the stretch. Joe Cuffari sent Fabius to the outside of Little Hermit in the straightaway and they raced as a team from the sixteenth pole to the wire with the favorite getting the camera decision.

Mr. Donmar moved from fourth to third through the drive, replacing tiring Ben A. Jones in that position, but never threatening the 1-2 finishers.

Fabius had been idle since winning his last start at Garden State Oct. 26.

St. Louis Cards Sign Ken Boyer

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Ken Boyer, a prominent figure in trade talks with other National League clubs, today signed his St. Louis Cardinal contract for 1958.

General Manager Bing Devine said the 26-year-old third baseman and outfielder received "approximately" the same salary as last season. He reportedly received about $15,000 last season.

Boyer's batting average dipped 41 points last season, from .306 to .265. The 6-foot-2 righthander also fell off in runs batted in and extra base hits.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

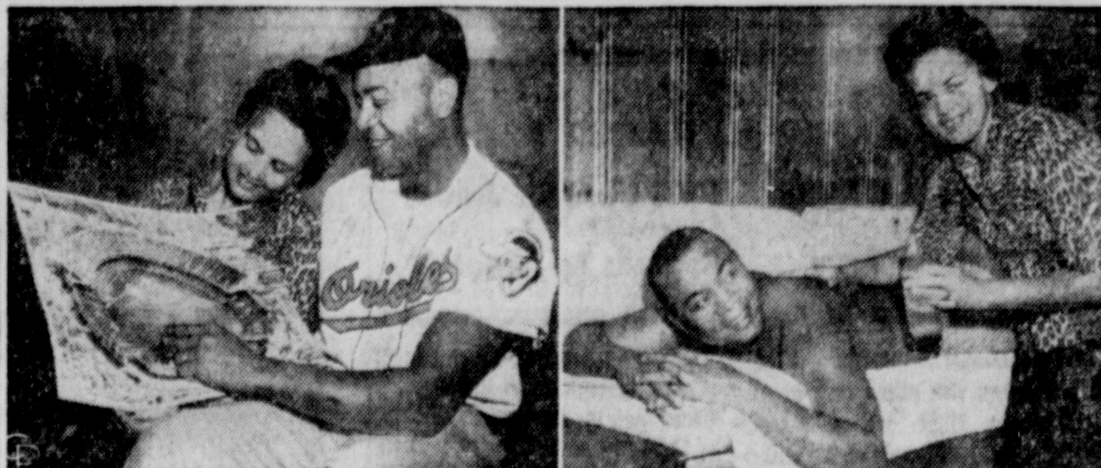

ITEMS OF SPORTS INFO need not play every minute of every game. For example, Dan Currie, Michigan State's great center, played but 284 minutes out of a possible 540 minutes this fall.

IT IS NOT expected that Navy will accept another Bowl bid after this one. Too much criticism is being leveled against the Academy that it has become Bowl conscious. Coach Frank McGuire of the national championship North Carolina cage team recently signed a new contract calling for $11,500 a year. It's for five years, too. There are 19 bonus players listed on the major league rosters as of now.

MICHIGAN STATE'S football captain for next year, Sam Williams, the brilliant end, is the oldest player on the squad at 26. He's a service veteran. Indiana's football team gained but 711 yards rushing this season against 2,672 by their opponents. Freddie Mills, once one of Britain's top fighters, now writes a daily sports column

Kopp Coach Of Year PVC Likes Sir James
Bill Graham Says Records To Shoot At
By C. V. BURNS

A FAMILIAR NAME popped up in the News the other day in an item from Utah which stated that Harold Kopp was voted coach-of-the-year in the Skyline Conference.

Kopp will be remembered in Allegany county as a sandlot baseball catcher in bygone days and former football star at Western Maryland College.

He now is head football coach at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Before shifting to B.U., Hal coached Rhode Island University girls' teams and three times was voted coach-of-the-year in the Yankee Conference.

Mrs. Kopp, incidentally, was Hazel Cooling, daughter of Gilbert C. Cooling, who was principal of Barton High School for many years before he retired as an educator and returned to Maryland's Eastern Shore where he was born.

BILL GRAHAM, secretary of the Maryland Racing Commission, estimates the final "cut" for the state from the operation of the eight thoroughbred tracks and four harness raceways will surpass last year's $8,766,168.03, despite cancellation of the last five days of the season at Pimlico.

The 1957 report indicates that Marlboro and Cumberland were the only minor tracks to show gains in wagering over last year.

Marlboro's daily average was $424,761 for 12 days, a gain of 7 per cent over 1956. Cumberland was up 4 per cent with an average of $193,509 compared to $186,608 last year. Hagerstown was about even with the previous year, Timonium was off 16 per cent and wagering at Bel Air dipped 13 per cent.

Here are the figures for the minor tracks:

	1957 Avg.	1956 Avg.
Bel Air	$312,513	$359,163
Timonium	$222,477	$264,707
Hagerstown	$340,161	$340,658
Cumberland	$193,509	$186,608
Marlboro	$424,761	$398,292

CUMBERLAND's average attendance of 4,058 was about the same as last year and Marlboro's 6,051 was up three per cent. Timonium's 7,483 was a decline of 14 per cent. Hagerstown's 6,224 was down 9 per cent and Bel Air's 5,703 was one per cent below the 1956 average.

AFTER READING the semi-annual report that was presented at the recent meeting of the Potomac Valley Conference we can understand why those schools regard James W. Goldworthy, assistant principal of Keyser High School, as one of the most informative secretaries in the business.

Before the spring and fall sessions of the P.V.C., Mr. Goldworthy prepares the agenda for each meeting and he puts it down in such a clear and concise manner that it's remarkable.

We have attended several P.V.C. meetings and we have watched Sir James in action. His minutes when mimeographed show that he doesn't miss a thing. His latest contribution covers all-star basketball selections, election of officers, highlights of the baseball season, a review of the conference track meet, 1957 football clean-up and a list of nominees for All-Conference football teams. It all makes interesting reading to the schools concerned.

Keyser High School and the P.V.C. should feel proud of Secretary Goldworthy and the excellent job he has performed.

WITH the basketball season under way in the tri-state area here are some of the past records the

Houk Is Named Yankees Coach

Managed Denver Bears This Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (INS)—Ralph Houk, manager of the Denver Bears in the American Association the past three years, was named today as a coach of the New York Yankees for the 1958 season.

Houk, a former Yankee catcher, is expected to serve as first base coach for the Bombers.

Houk piloted the Yankees' American Association farm club to a second place finish in 1957. The Bears won the league playoffs and then defeated the International League champion Buffalo Bisons to win the Little World Series.

Houk replaces veteran Billy Dickie, who has retired. The Hall of Fame catcher suffered what was described as "nervous exhaustion" during spring training of last season and did not return to his coaching duties.

Bay State Quits NBA

Akins-DeMarco Bout Is Cause Of Rift

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Massachusetts State Boxing Commission announced today its resignation from the National Boxing Assn., charging the officers of the NBA made an "outright attempt to undermine and hinder boxing in the commonwealth."

The resignation is believed to have stemmed from a welterweight bout here between Virgil Akins and Tony DeMarco. The Massachusetts Commission considered that fight for the championship vacated by Carmen Basilio when he won the middleweight championship from Sugar Ray Robinson. The NBA declined to go along with the Bay State commission, however, and is sanctioning elimination bouts for the welterweight title.

Pep Is Victor

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Wee Willie Pep, no longer the will o' the wisp but still a master boxer, pounded out an easy 10-round decision over previously unbeaten Jimmy Connors of New Bedford tonight at Boston Garden. Pep weighed 131, Connors 127.

The former featherweight champion, now a night club operator in Tampa, Fla., floored the 20-year-old Connors twice for compulsory eight counts in dazzling exhibition which brought cheers from even the fans who came to root for the New England battler.

Aaron Twin Dies

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 17 (AP)—One of the twin boys born Sunday to Mrs. Henry Aaron, wife of the National League's most valuable player, died at St. Anthony's Hospital today.

The infant was the first born and weighed 3 pounds 6 ounces. His brother, Larry, who weighed an ounce more, is doing well in an incubatory.

North Carolina Heads AP Poll

Cincinnati Climbs Into Fourth Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The North Carolina Tar Heels have a lot going for them. They are unbeaten in 36 games, the top-ranked club in the Associated Press weekly basketball poll and the defending national collegiate champions.

Their amazing streak and high poll ranking will be in jeopardy this weekend in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament which also lists Kentucky, West Virginia and Minnesota—three others in the first 10—among the participants.

The majority of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters, however, maintained that after the first two weeks of the 1957-1958 campaign the Tar Heels had the top outfit. On the strength of their 4-0 record, Frank McGuire's lads received 63 first place votes and 1,081 points in the second poll of the season.

Kansas, which has had some difficulty in putting together a 5-0 mark, was second. The Jayhawks collected 21 votes for the top spot and 939 points overall on the usual 10 points for first, 9 for second etc. basis.

Kansas State remained in third place. But Cincinnati's Bearcats, winners of their own invitational tournament, climbed into fourth place. Kentucky dropped to fifth followed by Maryland, San Francisco, West Virginia, Michigan State and Minnesota.

The world's richest race is the Garden State Stakes at Camden, N. J., for which $38 nominations have been received from England, Canada, Mexico and 31 states in this country.

And the leading nominator is the aforesaid Mrs. Graham, who has named 17 for the event.

Mrs. Gene Markey, who owns Calumet Farm, has entered 14 and Mrs. M. E. Lunn 11.

These women are all multi-millionaires who probably could write off their turf losses, if any, on their income tax. But we venture to say that they don't often have losing years, which would indicate there may be some truth to the old saying that "them as has, gets."

Durrelle scored a major upset when he held Anthony to a draw at Detroit last June 14.

Following that close tussle, Anthony was knocked out in the seventh round of a title fight by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore at Los Angeles Sept. 20.

SPORTS GRILL NFL To Invoke "Sudden Death" Rule If Playoff Ends In Tie

Team Scoring First In 5th Period Will Win Sunday Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17 (AP)—Should the Detroit Lions and the San Francisco 49ers wind up in a tie in their National Football League Conference playoff Sunday, the pro league's "sudden death" rule will be invoked.

"Sudden death" means the teams would play a fifth quarter with the first team to score emerging the winner.

The "sudden death" article in the NFL record and rules manual reads this way: "The sudden death system of determining the winner shall prevail when score is tied at the end of the regulation playing time of a game."

Anybody who pays a large sum for a yearling must be a gambler at heart, for a yearling purchase is among the toughest gambles we know.

Still, if one is lucky, the rewards can be rich indeed. There are scores of stakes in this country worth anywhere from $20,000 to $150,000 and a lucky owner can quickly win back his investment.

Some of the many rich women owners will spend money lavishly as any of the men for a colt or filly that meets their fancy. And many of them hit the jackpot year after year.

Mrs. Ogden Phipps was the top winner among steeplechase owners with $129,368 for the year, $75,975 of which was earned by her champion Neji.

Mrs. C. U. Bay's unbeaten champion two-year-old filly Idun earned $220,955, a record for her age and sex.

Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham's Jewel's Reward was voted the best two-year-old colt this year with record earnings of $349,642.

And the leading nominator is the aforesaid Mrs. Graham, who has named 17 for the event.

Mrs. Gene Markey, who owns Calumet Farm, has entered 14 and Mrs. M. E. Lunn 11.

These women are all multi-millionaires who probably could write off their turf losses, if any, on their income tax. But we venture to say that they don't often have losing years, which would indicate there may be some truth to the old saying that "them as has, gets."

Durrelle scored a major upset when he held Anthony to a draw at Detroit last June 14.

Following that close tussle, Anthony was knocked out in the seventh round of a title fight by light heavyweight champion Archie Moore at Los Angeles Sept. 20.

In Memoriam

In memory of my darling husband, Charles R. Kane, who passed to our seven years ago today, December 18, 1950.

Not dead to me who loved him Not lost but gone before. He lives with me in memory And will forevermore. Some say time heals an aching heart But mine, it isn't true. For seven long years have passed And my heart still aches for dear Watch over me from above, dear Protect me here below. Guide me always in the path As you would want me to go. Take my hand when days are dark Comfort me when I cry. Walk beside me in this weary life Until the day I die. Sadly missed by his wife, Margaret Kane.

The bidding:
East 1 diamond 1 heart 2 no trp
Pass 4 hearts Pass Pass

Opening lead: Deuce of diamonds.

Paying close attention to the spots was essential to a successful performance by declarer today. The hand was selected from a recent team-of-four match, where both North and South pairs played a four heart contract but with different results.

The bidding was identical at both tables, though it seems clear to us that North having an opening no trump — 16 points, should have bid three no trump, since a two no trump response to an overall is not forcing. It will be observed that there are nine top tricks available and South's hand is quite suitable for no trump once his partner announces a diamond stopper.

West opened the deuce of diamonds, and one declarer played dummy's jack, which went to East's king. The king of spades was returned, and declarer permitted it to hold. East then shifted to a trump, and South drew them in three rounds. He considered that the only chance he had to win the hand was to play in the hope that East would have to win the third trick in clubs, whereupon he would be forced to lead into dummy's spade tenace or cash his ace of diamonds and set up dummy's queen for the discard of a spade.

Unfortunately for declarer, West was in on the third round of clubs and returned a spade, putting an end to declarer's hopes.

At the other table, South, too, received the diamond lead, but did not fail to observe that he was blessed with very fortunate "spots" in the suit. He played low from dummy, permitting East's ten to win. When declarer regained the lead, he drew trumps, winding up in dummy, and led the queen of diamonds through. East covered with the king and South ruffed. A club to the ace permitted the return of the jack of diamonds, which smothered the ace and nine. Dummy's eight of diamonds was established now for the needed discard.

The East German Communists last week sent another trawler with an extra crew aboard to sail back the immobilized trawler.

But the extra crew deserted, too, and asked for asylum.

So the Communist relief trawler sailed home for further instructions.

Clary Heads Fire Company At Deer Park

DEER PARK — Dwight Clary was elected president of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department at a recent meeting.

Others elected were Edward Sollars, vice president; George Comp Jr., secretary; Glen O'Brien, treasurer; J. R. Thrasher, chaplain; Harrison Thrasher, trustee; William Clatterbuck, chief; Carl Thrasher, assistant; Dale Simpson, captain. The men will assume office January 1.

Firemen were called recently to the home of Daniel Friend at Deer Park when gasoline, being used to start a fire exploded, igniting the house. Considerable damage was done before firemen subdued the flames.

The fund drive being conducted by the department will terminate December 31. According to Clatterbuck, campaign chairman, the drive thus far has been successful. Five hundred feet of new hose has been purchased. He said additional funds are needed for protective clothing, and urged persons not having already donated to do so as soon as possible.

Evitts Creek Bridge May Be Opened Today

Surfacing Of One Lane Is Scheduled

The State Roads Commission hopes to have traffic moving over one lane of the new Evitts Creek Bridge on Route 51 late today or early tomorrow.

Barring rain, one of the 34 foot lanes of the modern prestressed concrete bridge is to be paved with bituminous concrete today, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer.

He said the Cumberland Contracting Company will open its plant today so the bridge can be surfaced, adding that only rain or snow will be allowed to interfere with the schedule.

Will Use Ramp

Traffic from Cumberland will get to the bridge by a temporary ramp leading to the paved lane of the highway and Mr. Chaires said motorists will be asked to use caution in driving over the temporary route which will be used until spring.

The entire bridge will be surfaced and the ramp eliminated, he said, when Evitts Creek is moved to its new channel and permanent fill placed.

Work on the bridge was held up for some time for lack of expansion plates which arrived late last week and have been installed.

The new bridge is almost 100 feet wide and has two 34-foot roadways separated by a 16-foot median strip, plus five-foot pedestrian walks.

It will mark the starting point of the first construction contract on the Cumberland Thruway.

Will Open Bids

The State Roads Commission will open bids January 14 for the part of the Industrial Highway section of the Thruway which will extend from the Evitts Creek Bridge to Crawford Street here.

If weather allows the Evitts Creek Bridge surfacing job, the City of Cumberland plans to fill spaces between cleats on the temporary Baltimore Street Bridge to lessen the "rock and roll" effect.

Christmas Art

Three Allegheny High School art students are shown giving the finishing touches to their painting of the Madonna and Child on one of the corridor windows at the school. The young artists are Patty Robertson, Donnelly Kidwell and Tania Darr.

Allegheny Art Students Brighten Yuletide Season

Once again amid the preparations for Christmas, the Senior Art and Poster Club at Allegheny High School is busy spreading symbols of the season around the school and at institutions around town where they might brighten the holiday for others.

Mrs. Ethel C. Bruce, art instructor at Allegheny, reports that the students who have painted traditional Christmas scenes on classroom and arcade windows include Patty Robertson, Tania Darr, Faye Green, Donnelly Kidwell, Michael Collins and James May.

Cafeteria "cutout" decorations have been essentially the work of Mary Rosenmarkle and Donna Payne. They have brightened the appearance of the cafeteria for the teachers' tea which will be served after school today.

Outside the school a number of other student artists have been spreading Christmas cheer with the decorations at the County Home, County Infirmary, Crippled Children's League and Girl Scout House. This work has been undertaken by Martha Coulehan, June Davis, Eileen Mitchell, Susie Deetz, Sharon Fields, June Powers, Beverly Holcomb, Betty Long, Edward Wendt, Susie Wilson, Robert Funk and Mary Whetzel.

Art work on the school bulletin board has been done by Billie Norwood, Melina Beal, Georgi Parsenius, Nancy Edmiston and Nancy Walkeley.

A show case exhibit featuring Santa Claus on a flying saucer has been the work of Sandra Phillips and Nancy Walkeley.

Following the evening program, a group of carolers sponsored by the Wesleyan Fellowship will leave the church at 9:15 and sing the traditional carols at the home of the shut-ins of the church and community. After the caroling, the group will return to the parsonage for light refreshments and a dismissal meditation.

During the morning worship service Sunday, new members will be received into membership of the church from the membership training class. A Christmas message titled "The Wonder Of It All," will be given by the pastor.

There will be no extension of the Christmas holiday for Allegheny County schools, Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster disclosed last night.

Some sentiment had been developed to extend the holiday to include the Thursday and Friday after New Year's Day.

Mr. Webster said the schedule for the school year calling for 182 days of classes was made up last summer. He explained that the contract with the school bus operators calls for 182 school days a year and they are paid on that basis. The school lunch subsidy also calls for 182 school days, he added, and these funds are needed for operation of the program.

There also is a chance that schools may have to be closed because of bad winter weather.

Public schools will close at the end of classes this Friday and will resume on the morning of January 2.

The Health Department will hold child hygiene clinics Thursday at 1 p. m. in Eckhart and Friday at 10 a. m. in Lonaconing.

Parents Get Custody Of Their Child

Girl Lives With Grandparents

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris decided after an all-day open-court hearing in Allegheny County Circuit Court that a 12-year-old girl should return to the custody of her parents and leave her grandparents, with whom she has spent much of her life.

Judge Harris announced his decision from the bench and then said that he would file a written opinion within a few days.

James N. DuVall and Mary Louise DuVall, his wife, of Springfield, W. Va., brought the equity suit against his parents, Walter E. DuVall and Mabel T. DuVall, his wife, of RFD 4, seeking custody of their 12-year-old daughter, Sandra Kay.

For some time the grandparents and parents of the girl lived on the same property at North Branch. The elder DuValls owned both homes and lived in the larger of the two houses, located only about 35 feet apart.

When the parents moved to Springfield August 12 of this year, the 12-year-old girl refused to leave her grandparents and remained in Maryland.

Judge Harris decided that the parents were entitled to legal custody of their daughter but the child left the court room with her grandparents. Earl E. Manges was attorney for the younger DuValls and Harold E. Naughton represented the grandparents.

The senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Sunday school will present a playlet titled "The Angelic Song."

The intermediates will form a group of carolers and will assist in the playlet. The offering to be received during the program will go to the Board of Child Care of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church.

Van Horn Asks For 'Justice With Mercy'

Defense Motions Are Overruled

TOWSON, Md., Dec. 17 (AP)—Robert Jett Van Horn expressed hope today at his trial for the fatal beating of his millionaire wife that he would receive "as much mercy as is consonant with justice."

The impeccably dressed 53-year-old business executive returned to the witness stand for rebuttal on the 12th day of the trial.

He was questioned specifically by his lawyers about testimony given by Dr. Jacob Morgenstern, state director of correctional psychiatry and one of seven medical experts summoned by the prosecution.

Van Horn has pleaded for acquittal on the first degree murder charge, arising from the June 1 beating of his wife, because of temporary insanity. There has been a sharp division of opinion. Experts for the defense unanimously testified Van Horn was insane. Those for the prosecution said he wasn't.

Directed Verdict Refused

In some legal maneuvering late today, the defense asked for a directed verdict of innocent "in either the first or second degree" but the motion was overruled by the court.

A similar motion, asking for a directed verdict as to first degree murder, had been made earlier in the trial when the state rested its case.

The tall gray-haired defendant was the last witness. Legal arguments were heard this afternoon and final summations on the facts will be offered at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Dr. Morgenstern said Van Horn conveyed a "feeling of guilt" in their interview. The defendant said he meant "guilt and remorse" because "I killed my wife."

He said he hoped from the interview at the state mental hospital something would be found that would "enable me to live with myself for the rest of my life."

Tries To Remember

Under questioning by the three judges hearing the testimony without a jury, Van Horn tried to clarify what he felt at the time of the beating. Defense testimony dwelt on the possibility he was suffering from an epileptic seizure. Experts in rebuttal described it more as a rage reaction.

"I can't deny that I had in the beginning a feeling of rage and anger," said Van Horn, son of a retired vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

He said this feeling lasted "up to the first blow." He also testified that "more times than not" he could remember striking his wife once.

It has been testified that Mrs. Van Horn, married two years to the defendant, was brutally beaten outside their suburban Baltimore home.

Rec Workers Are Appointed

The Mayor and Council have approved the appointment of five seasonal workers of the Recreation Department.

Edward M. Taylor and Claude Weaver were appointed basketball custodians at $1 an hour; Richard Cunningham and Glenn Wilson, youth program leaders at $1 an hour, and Maxine A. Zehr-bach at Senior Citizens program assistant at $2 a session.

Filed was a letter from Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer, thanking the city for its resolution to prohibit parking on the left side of each lane of the Industrial Boulevard part of the Thruway.

He advised that the Bureau of Public Roads has deferred approval of the project but that the SRC advertised the project and will settle the objections of the bureau later.

The city auditor was authorized Monday to issue a check for $10,000 to the Treasurer of the United States. It represents the balance due on the $30,000 asked by the Corps of Engineers April 17 as the city's share of construction costs of the last flood control contract.

Physical Ed Teachers Begin Study

Men physical education teachers in the Allegheny County public high schools conferred yesterday afternoon with Robert E. Pench, county supervisor of physical education, in the third of a series of meetings designed to improve and unify the program of physical education in the high schools.

In his first year as a supervisor last year, Mr. Pence studied the physical education program offered in the county and came up with specific recommendations to make the program better and more uniform.

With the start of the new school year in September, a meeting was arranged by the supervisor with the 17 men and 15 women who teach physical education in the high schools. Then in mid-November a second session was held with the women physical education teachers.

Now the teachers have volunteered to serve on a number of committees which will study different phases of the program. When the committee work is completed the teachers will reconvene to ratify a set of recommendations.

Eight major areas will be studied by the committees, the supervisor said. They include introduction, with consideration of the purposes and scope of the physical education program; the instructional class program; the intramural program, the inter-scholastic program, other programs, which include the adapted program, health, first aid, physical fitness, co-educational, recreational program, outdoor program and aquatics; evaluation; needed references and finally recommendations.

Mr. Weatherholt said in his dispute of the claim that he had fulfilled a moral obligation to his policy holders in using the premium monies to buy other insurance for them when the New York company went into receivership.

The claim against Mr. Weatherholt was first forwarded to the Insurance Commissioner of Maryland and who employed the late Willis Jones to collect. Jones later died and the New York liquidator then came into the state and filed a bill to collect the premiums on March 4, 1957.

Judge Harris further stated in his opinion that there was no unreasonable delay in pursuing the claim and that Mr. Weatherholt has in no manner been prejudiced. The local agent has had the use of the complainant's funds, Judge Harris said, for several years and should not now complain if he must pay this indebtedness.

School Board Gives Contract To Pile Bros.

Valley To Get $3,173 Project

A contract was awarded to Pile Brothers Inc., McMullen Highway, yesterday by the Allegheny County Board of Education to furnish and install an underground drainage line at the Valley High School athletic field in Lonaconing for $3,173.20.

The Pile Brothers firm was the low bidder among five submitting bids last Wednesday.

Included in this project are digging a trench, laying a pipeline, caulking joints, connecting inlets, installing grates, backfilling and grading.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster reported that Charles E. Stotler, representing Friends Aware, attended yesterday's board meeting. He wanted to discuss the overcrowding of station wagons transporting the severely handicapped children to their special classes.

The superintendent said the trouble is that nine or ten children are crowded into the station wagons best equipped for only seven or eight youngsters. An effort will be made to reduce the number of children on each trip of the station wagon.

Foster J. Liederback, manager of the Strand Theatre, appeared at the meeting to question why he had been refused permission to distribute reduced rate admission tickets to "Around The World In 80 Days" when it was presented during much of the month of November. It was explained that similar requests by other theatres would have to be granted under the circumstances.

Other routine matters were disposed of at the meeting including the granting of maternity leaves to several teachers.

Insurance Firm Must Pay Bank Premium

A local insurance company was ordered to pay back premiums on policies issued under a now defunct insurance organization in an opinion handed down by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegheny County Circuit Court.
